

EVERSTONE

Stone-look porcelain stoneware is a timeless element in design, suited to every season and every need. Purveyor of original and creative ideas, Everstone by Cercom came about through the analysis of the weave pattern of different natural materials, each rich in fascinating details with variations in tone and contrasting veining. The result is a character-rich ceramic stone, distinctive and utterly realistic in all colour and surface variations.

The four colours – Everbrown, Evercream, Evergreige and Everwhite – summarise the most current and versatile choices in floor and wall composition, and promote creative and elegant solutions through the different visual effects of the natural and wax finishes, both suitable for indoor installation. Cercom offers the R11 finish for outdoor use, also available in 20mm thick solutions with coordinated trim pieces which, thanks to their high-performing characteristics, support architects when designing spaces that call for resistance and safety.

The Everstone range provides its exclusive natural stone-look tiles in a wide range of sizes, starting from the large 120x120 cm, thus allowing for modular and multi-size installation layouts. An indispensable resource for injecting this highly evocative ceramic surface into a vast array of stylistic solutions suitable for residential construction, commercial projects, including luxury hotels, and public buildings.
