STONE VISION

A borderland between countries and cultures, Occitania holds fascinating and wild landscapes, dotted with ancient buildings that tell extraordinary stories through architecture. Cathedrals and monasteries, villas and castles proudly showcase the limestone typical of this land, used since the Middle Ages and now once again relevant in the ceramic interpretation proposed by the Stone Vision collection.

Cercom's porcelain stoneware preserves the evocative qualities of the inspirational material, featuring an antiqued finish that captures the welcoming atmosphere of traditional Occitan places, along with a color palette akin to natural stone. Stone Vision has a vintage character and a contemporary soul, as it combines the aesthetics of time-worn floors with the technical performance of the most advanced covering ceramics, available in a range of formats, finishes, and thicknesses that cater to both interior and outdoor design.

The texture of the collection, softly toned to enhance the neutral shades of the surface, is offered in four color variants suitable for both contemporary installation solutions, focused on a single format, and multi-format and modular schemes, versatile and eclectic in meeting both classic and modern furnishing needs.
