

QUARZI

Quarzi by Cercom is a new collection of ceramic surfaces inspired by Alpine quartzite, one of the most versatile and fascinating materials traditionally employed in architecture. Elegant, but with just a touch of eccentricity, Quarzi translates the evocative colours and veining of the natural material into ceramic, to offer a decisive style statement which gives character to any space.

Barge, Tirol, Valmanenco and Vipiteno, with their very different chromatic universes, give their names to the four colours in the collection. The intense tones, penetrated by pure white veining, counterbalance luminous proposals subtly embroidered with contrasting textures, while accompanying more compact textures in a play of delicately nuanced tonalities. The beauty of the colours chosen by Cercom for the Quarzi project is particularly evident in the Frammenti Mix version, in which a skilled mix of colours gives life to a completely new solution for decorations.

The Quarzi collection offers two interpretations of the ceramic material itself, with the lapped finish for a more recherché, luxurious aesthetic, and the natural finish, more faithful to the welcoming and informal nature of the original material. Available in a large number of modular sizes, the Quarzi collection also includes mosaic options for high impact decorative effects, perfect for adding a touch of fantasy to residential spaces and outlining public and commercial spaces.
