

SOAPSTONE

Soap stone is inspired by Cercom's research on one of the most original and exclusive natural materials: a collection inspired by steatite, a soap rock traditionally used in the making of decorative and hand-crafted objects, with a texture that lends uniqueness to any piece.

Soap stone, offered in five colour variations, White, Ivory, Coffee, Grey and Black, is characterized by intense colours and dense veining and is available in five sizes, starting from 120x120 cm large size tiles to the more traditional 60x60 cm ones. In addition to natural and semi-polished, two types of surfaces for interiors designed to suit different styles of furniture, Cercom also offers a Grip R11 surface made with a rock finish, also available in the 19mm thick outdoor version, to ensure continuity between the indoor and outdoor areas.

Soap stone is the ultimate ceramic rendering of nature which, with the aid of cutting edge technologies, Cercom has transformed into an innovative project for architecture and design. In its interpretation of this soft and crumbly material, Cercom has created a porcelain stoneware project with high technical performance and resistance to trampling wear, both in indoor and outdoor spaces, ideal for use in residential, commercial and large architectural projects.
